

What I Gave

After each day's giving, take a minute to write what you gave and what happened.

Time · January 2

What job that nobody wants could I do for someone?

Given to _____

What happened _____

Resources · January 3

Who could I give my best to, not my leftovers?

What I gave _____

To _____

If you gave it without your name, it can stay a secret between you and this page.

Words · January 4

Who needs a Love Letter from me?

To _____

Love Letter notes. A specific time they chose a cost for my good this year:

One line about how I intend to love them in the year ahead (if I want to add it):

One Light, Passed Along

Back at the start of November, you wrote about two Decembers: the one you didn't want to hand down and the one you hoped to (page 6). Turn back and read it again.

What changed, if anything

Something written to me this season that I want to remember

One practice I want to keep after today

Where this book goes next

Next November starts with remembering how things were a year ago, and this book holds most of the answers. Put it where next November's you will find it.

- ☐ In with the Thanksgiving decorations. Lay it on top, in the box or bin where they're stored. When the decorations come out next fall, this comes out with them.
- ☐ Somewhere else, with a reminder. Set a calendar note or email yourself for about October 15: "Find last year's Advent Overflow Workbook. It's in ____."

I put it _____

Reminder set for _____ ☐ done

When you open it next year, start with your Snapshot (page 20).

One light, passed along.
